FOREWORD

Time is that which creeps away,
Slowly, slowly, day by day.
Every second ticks to hours,
Hours which bring us joys and sorrows.

Time, an important element, is the thesis of our First Lady. We have chosen this theme in honor of Mrs. Edith Sotherland to whom the book is dedicated. Mrs. Sotherland always had time for us.

Since we are students of a vocational school, time is more valuable than ever. It takes time to develop skill whereby to earn a living. Time which is lost can never be recovered.

Human beings keep memories of the past and look into the future, but can use only the present. In this annual, we have accumulated memories of Whitney.

In time to come and now, take advantage of opportunities before you by utilizing every minute. Make time your servant, not your master!

Theresa Vollmar

DEDICATION

Whitney's class of 1950 dedicates this First Lady in memory of Mrs. Edith Beeman Sotherland.

Mrs. Sotherland was born in Cleveland, Ohio, the oldest of eight children. When she was very young, doctors predicted she would never walk again as result of an illness. Will-power and time helped her overcome this handicap. She was a graduate of Norwalk High School and Business College. Later, she attended the Toledo University and took extensive work at the art museum. After the unfortunate death of her husband, she reentered the business world working for the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, the Masonic Temple and later the Toledo Board of Education.

Traveling was one of her many enjoyments. She had been from coast to coast, New York to California, where she lived for several years. Her outstanding trip was to Europe on a conducted tour which lasted a complete summer. Her relaxation was in hobbies: books, music, art, religion. Her greatest happiness lay in helping others. For everyone, she had time.

Time to extend aid and comfort to those in need.

Time to give praise to those who deserved it.

Friendship and love were her religion and she gave of herself far beyond normal strength, because her strength was in God. Her kindness drew people to her, as the sun draws water unto itself. She enclosed them all in her heart.

We shall never forget the time she spent to help each of us in the senior class, through her work in the school office. Her success was the result of time well spent.

Miss Ethel Wooden

"When time which steals our years away
Shall steal away our pleasures, too,
The memo'ry of the past shall stay
And half our joys renew."

—Moore

One of the memories you will long hold dear is the assembly on October 7, 1949. Can you hear the section that sang, "Tramp, tramp, tramp," accompanied by the high overtone of the song?

We can picture time that way. Minutes, minutes, minutes, minutes ticking away methodically to the overtone of hours, days, months, years. In the short time you have been at Whitney, minutes have marched into hours, days, years—three in length. May you look ahead to future minutes, hours, days, months, and years which will be well spent.

Miss Ethel Wooden, Principal
